

Paramedics

Paramedics have a very important job. They can help you if you are in an accident. They can help in emergencies, and can treat your injuries until you reach the hospital. If you see an emergency vehicle with their flashing lights on, you should move over and let them through. Do you know why this is important?
