

Interview

A New Year has arrived and you can look forward to reaching new goals. You can also learn from the past and from those who are older than you. Interview someone older than you. Ask them questions about things that may have happened when you were very young or before you were born. Record their answers.

Write your questions on the first line and write the answers you receive under the question.

My name is _____.

I am interviewing _____.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

