Charlie's Easter

Read the story.

Charlie began to count the days until Easter. Easter was Charlie's favorite holiday. Charlie loved the bright colors of Easter. He liked Easter because it was in the spring, and the flowers were blooming. The weather became warmer and Charlie could play outside.

Every year on Easter Sunday, Charlie and his parents have a big Easter party at their house. They invite their relatives and friends. After they eat lunch, they have an Easter egg hunt. This year, Charlie helped his parents clean the house for the party. His favorite chore was to wash the windows. After the house was clean, Charlie and his mother decorated the house for Easter. They put a big pink Easter bunny on their porch. They hung pink, blue, and yellow ribbons on the lights on the porch. Then, they made an Easter tree in their yard with plastic eggs and ribbons. Charlie's mother smiled when she saw how pretty the decorations were.

The day before Easter, Charlie and his mother went shopping for food for the party. They bought a ham, beans, potato salad, eggs, and a coconut cake. Charlie's mother bought some Easter egg dye for Charlie. Charlie and his mother went home and boiled the eggs. After the eggs cooled, Charlie and his mother colored the eggs with the Easter egg dye.

The next day was Easter Sunday. Charlie got up early to help his parents get ready for the party. He took a bath and put on his new Easter clothes. It was going to be a great Easter!
