

FLUFFY LIKES TO PLAY

One day, Emily found a lost puppy. The puppy was small and white. It had black spots and fluffy fur. The puppy licked Emily's nose. Emily fell in love.

Emily and her parents tried to find the puppy's owners. They made signs. They put an ad in the newspaper. They looked everywhere, but they could not find the owner.

Emily's parents said she could keep the puppy. Emily named it Fluffy because its fur was so soft. Fluffy slept in a basket in Emily's room. Emily loved Fluffy. There was only one problem: Fluffy wanted to play all the time.

When Emily wanted to read, Fluffy barked and chewed on the book. When Emily wanted to do homework, Fluffy stole her school supplies. But Emily solved the problem.

Emily played with Fluffy. Emily threw a ball, and Fluffy chased it. Fluffy chased a stick. Fluffy played so much that she got tired. Fluffy slept in her basket. While Fluffy slept, Emily did her homework. Emily read her book. When Fluffy woke up, Emily played with her again.
